THE QUICK SHALL INHERIT THE EARTH

Fast is better than slow.

While slow is adding unnecessary embellishments, fast is out in the world. And that means fast can learn from experience while slow can only theorize.

Those who ship quickly can improve quickly.

So fast doesn't just win the race. It gets a head start for the next one.

Work harder than other companies

If you are passionate about what you do - outworking the competition is actually fun.
This doesn't just mean quantity, but in the quality and concentrated effort - understanding yourself and playing to your strengths.

If you believe in something, it's easy to sell.

Learning to sell is the #1 most impactful skill for many people - it is incentivized and can lead to higher incomes and the ability to have financial confidence and confidence you can take care of your family, and to ensure you're never a financial burden on someone else - even in a catastrophic health situation.

Success is our duty, and our obligation.
